

Leader's Notes

WEEK 6 Generosity

1. This question is just trying to help people get a grip on their true place in the world of wealth. Most of us do not feel wealthy, but even the extra money we have could have a huge impact on someone, somewhere else in the world.
2. Obviously, Dusty was not saying that. Doing the right thing is what makes us the right kind of people. This is in here to make sure people understand the two go hand in hand and not feel they, therefore, have to do nothing.
3. Again, hearing people's feelings on this will help to give insights on where they are at and how the group might be of assistance in growing forward.
4. Success is not about what we have, but how we use what we have. The kingdom of God is all about what God has given us in Jesus, thus setting the standard of generosity (giving what could not be earned).
5. Really a deep question. Some may feel uncomfortable sharing about this. Remember, the depth you want others to go to will be to the depth you as a leader are willing to share. So, prepare to share deeply.
6. Basically, they are all impossible without God.
7. Some may share financial struggles and get caught up in that. The point of this question is your relationship with God during and after those situations. Usually people going through difficult times turn to God and must depend on God so they do.
8. Hopefully, he would have had the right priorities. Put God first and the other things will fall into place and even if they do not seem to be, do not be discouraged, but keep serving the Lord.
9. Another very personal question. People may not want to answer this question because they do not want to reveal things about themselves. Try to start this one yourself or ask someone ahead of time you know is open to sharing their struggles. Some of this comes back to question two, doing the right thing and being the right person. Remember, God is the one empowering us even in our struggles.
